

Just 48% of US women think they're compensated fairly at work

Article

For more insights and key statistics on the biggest trends in today's most disruptive industries, subscribe to our Chart of the Day newsletter.

Only 48% of US women think they're being paid fairly at work, according to a CivicScience survey for International Women's Day. Meanwhile, 42% think they're not being compensated fairly.

---

US Employed Women Who Think They Are Fairly Compensated at Their Job, March 2021

% of responses

---

Note: n=1,975 ages 18+; excludes "does not apply"

Source: CivicScience, "International Women's Day," March 8, 2020

264360

eMarketer | InsiderIntelligence.com

More like this:

- Video: Industry Voices: Spotlight on Danone's Sonika Patel
- Report: Political Content on Social Media 2021
- Article: Consumers expect brands to be inclusive