

The Weekly Listen: Sports streaming, internet rules for kids, and robots create ads

Audio

On today's episode, we discuss whether sports streaming is making us all lose, how much time younger and older folks spend watching TV, California passing tough internet privacy rules for kids, how much recessionary fears have taken their toll on brand loyalty, what happens when robots create ads, an unpopular opinion about the new social media app BeReal, some interesting facts about real-life dragons, and more. Tune in to the discussion with our director of forecasting Oscar Orozco and analysts Blake Droesch and Dave Frankland.

Subscribe to the “Behind the Numbers” podcast on Apple Podcasts, Spotify, Pandora, Stitcher, Podbean or wherever you listen to podcasts.

Neustar, Inc., a TransUnion company, is a leader in identity resolution providing data and technology that enables trusted connections between companies and people. Neustar offers industry-leading solutions in marketing, risk and communications that responsibly connect data on people, devices and locations, through billions of transactions.